These shoes are flawless from the outside. Most people think they're brand new. However the soles are a little worn. I mean a little. The soles themselves are in very good condition, and these shoes still have that "new shoe" smell which is pretty cool to a sneakerhead like me. They retail for $100, but I just want $50 considering they've been worn. I'm not hear to screw anyone over. I want to make a deal that satisfies both parties.
